The rodeo feeling has taken hold again in Coleman with meetings held to straighten out plans and further meetings to be called to keep the program operating smoothly. Jim Wilkie is in daily contact with rodeo matters and is arranging for a top notch show to be given here again this year, while advertising chairman John Owen is busy laying plans for an extensive advertising campaign.

provide Coleman rodeo fans with chuckles for days to come. This comedian is well known to Coleman people through the shows that he has presented here in the past and needs no fan fare or ballyhoo.

Operating under the guiding hand of secretary J. R. Hill the one day show is a member of the Southern Alberta Rodeo Circuit who are presenting eight shows at various centres. In addition to local purses, contestants in this circuit will receive points towards $200 cash and trophy saddles donated to the circuit by each of the following: Calgary Brewing Co., Western Canadian Greyhound, Stok's Lethbridge Brewery, Calgary Power, Great West Garment Co., and Canadian Western Natural Gas Co.

The addition of these prizes for the circuit winners guarantees that the Coleman show as a member of the circuit, will receive attention from the top performers.

P. A. Dickieson Reports On Coal Research Resolut.

P. A. Dickieson represented the Coleman Board of Trade at the Associated Chambers of Commerce and Agriculture held at Red Deer last week, making his report to the Coleman Board on Thursday night.

High in his praise for the organization Mr. Dickieson commented on the power that it exerts through its combined membership of 95 different boards, asserting that its voice is listened to by the government. It was his opinion that Coleman had followed a wise course in rejoining the board this year.

During his remarks he listed various resolutions that had been dealt with, making discussion on some that interested Coleman and stressing the one dealing with research on coal, as submitted by the Calgary Chamber of Commerce. The text of this resolution follows.

R. Research on Coal
Whereas the Alberta Coal Industry has been for many years and will continue to be one of the most important factors in industrial life of this province, and of Western Canada; and whereas more than 90% of the coal reserves of Canada are located in the four western provinces, principally in Alberta, and constitute by far the greatest energy reserve of this country;

Filming of the parade and rodeo is under direction of P. Dickieson. Parade arrangements will be handled by J. Wilkie. White ticket sales on the grandstand will be under responsibility of R. Pattinson. S. Short will be contacted regarding the civil defence police assisting as fence guards and the boy scouts given the job of selling programs.

Premier Manning wrote regretting that he will be unable to attend and Mr. Harquail will be asked to officially open the rodeo. Public address system for the rodeo and its operation will be arranged by C. Freeman, while Ettore Plividor will handle the erection of booths. The Canadian Legion will be contacted regarding decorating of the town and J. Wilkie volunteered once more to make arrangements for the merchants trophies.

The plan for payroll deductions to include admission to the variety concert and rodeo was brought up again for the third consecutive meeting and finally approved and adopted.

Padre Moss Marks 25 Years In Ministry

Rev. Harry Moss, DCM, rector of the Anglican churches in the Crow's Nest Pass towns of Coleman and Blairmore, celebrated his 25th anniversary in the priesthood on Trinity Sunday, May 31.

The parishioners of St. Alban's church at Coleman held a reception after the evening service in the parish hall on Whitsunday to mark the occasion.

Better known as Padre Moss among his people and especially his comrades in the Canadian Legion, he was ordained priest in the Anglican Church in the Cathedral of St. Matthew at Brandon, Man., on Trinity Sunday in 1938.

He commenced his theological training in England at St. Boniface College, Westminster, in 1923, and arrived in Canada that year as a harvest worker. He explains it, "It cost me sixty bucks to get to this country, and after a month's hard work in the field of Saskatchewan, I earned sixty-six — so what could I do but stay put?"

Becomes Vicar

Later, he entered St. John's College in Winnipeg and upon graduation was ordained deacon and became Vicar of Binscarth in Manitoba. He was senior student in St. John's and president of the University of Manitoba Students' Union in his final year. This period was highlighted by his leading the University students to full student government and marked by the firing of the university newspaper editor which led to the publication of the famed and yet remembered "scandal sheet" entitled the "Red Herring." "It smells but it sells," was the motto.

Padre Moss served in the first war in France, Belgium, Egypt and Palestine, being awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal for gallantry on the Somme in 1918. He experienced all ranks from private to regimental sergeant major of an infantry battalion.

He has been twice president of the Canadian Legion, 1st in 1929 to No. 74 Binscarth branch and in 1948 to the Rocky Mountain House branch. He is at present chaplain to the Coleman branch. In 1932 he left Canada to become chaplain to the Iraq Petroleum Company and lived in Palestine until the outbreak of the second war when he went to Britain to take on an army chaplaincy. Disappointed that his age would not permit him serving abroad he resigned his army commission and joined the Royal Navy, becoming a Chief Petty Officer. In 1945 he was appointed by the British Admiralty to the assistant management of the Alexandra Fleet Club and left for Egypt. With the end of the war the Padre considered going to Australia to resume his church work but finally decided to return to Canada and wrote offering his services to Bishop Ragg, then Bishop of Calgary.

At Abadan

In the meantime, the Anglo Iranian Oil Company asked him to take on their chaplaincy at Abadan in the Persian Gulf and he accepted only for one year so as to enable him to keep his promise to the Canadian church. Mr. Moss has had a varied and unique experience in dealing with oil men and maintains they are the best fellows in the world, with one exception, he added, "my coal miners in the Crow's Nest Pass." As chaplain to oil companies it meant travelling long distances by plane and car through the following lands: Palestine, Transjordan, Iraq, Syria, the Lebanese Republic and Iran.

In his spare time the padre took a great interest in British troops, sailors, airmen and police stationed anywhere in the vicinity of his pipeline parish, being awarded the Coronation Medal of his late Majesty King George in 1937, "for services rendered to His Majesty's Forces."

During the Arab-Jew trouble in the Holy Land he experienced many thrilling adventures in visiting troops stationed in lonely outposts.

General Wavell, in command in Palestine and Transjordan, gave him a special roving commission to visit troops "at his own risk and expense."

The padre spoke in the British House of Commons upon the Palestine situation and stressed the importance of the men's welfare under the conditions of active service. This was followed in 1936 by a visit to the Colonial Secretary, Malcolm MacDonald, when again the opportunity was his to support the fighting men.

Called to Lambeth

He was called several times to Lambeth Palace to discuss the plight of the Christian minority of the Assyrian Nestorian church who were then being cruelly persecuted by the Moslems in Iraq. The Archbishop of Canterbury was keenly interested in these unfortunate people.

Upon his completion of work with the Anglo Iranian Oil Company, the padre left for England and served in Calgary in June, 1947, being appointed rector of the Anglican church in Rocky Mountain House. He later came to Coleman.

The congregation of St. Alban's Anglican church in Coleman met after the Sunday evening service in the parish hall to honor their Rector, the Reverend Harry Moss, who celebrates his 25th anniversary to the priesthood. A luncheon was served by the ladies and a cake decorated with the figures 25, occupied the head table.

Harold Turrier, as secretary-treasurer of the parish congratulated the padre on the occasion and expressed the good wishes of the congregation, and presented him with a cheque as a gift from the parishioners.

Messages of congratulations have been received from many friends expressing good wishes including one from the Bishop of the diocese, the Right Reverend G. W. Calvert; Bishop Thomas, who ordained Mr. Moss in the Cathedral Church of St. Matthew, Brandon; the present Bishop of Brandon, the Right Reverend P. B. Clayton, C.H., M.C., Chaplain to H. M. The Queen, Vicar of All Hallows' Church, Tower Hill, London, England, who was Mr. Moss' first war padre. Padre Moss was ordained priest in the diocese of Brandon on Trinity Sunday, 1928.

Rodeo Plans Well Advanced

Coleman Board of Trade met in regular meeting on Thursday night with a joint board meeting and Rodeo meet. Correspondence included a request that the board sponsor a Highway Safety Program for the Inspector of Highway Traffic. This request was not quite clear and additional information has been requested.

John McDonald represented the Civil Defence and asked the board for assistance in regards the welfare section. The speaker showed that board is composed of those men that are directly connected with the welfare problem, they being the storekeepers with the supplies that will be called for during an emergency. It was his contention that these men should sit down with the welfare section during the planning stages so that plans for welfare would be made to the satisfaction of all. Should they neglect to do so and an emergency arise, the plan drawn would have to be carried out without the consultation of merchants or despite their complaints.

Considerable hedging was evident and a couple of moves made to have this action shelved till a later date, however persistence on the part of some resulted in a decision to call a meeting of the Retail Merchants Association and the Welfare section on June 10.

Coleman Branch of the Red Cross requested the board to assist in supplying cars for transportation to and from the Blood Donor Clinic in September. 17 volunteered cars at the meeting and a representative of the branch will be requested to attend an August meeting.

Various committee chairmen reported on 50th anniversary progress.

Rodeo Meeting

At the rodeo meeting considerable business was completed in a short time due chiefly to the efforts of Mr. Hill. The usual "what did we do last year" and "what did it cost us last year" threatened to bog down the meeting and slow up organization until the secretary called for action to disperse with these routine matters without too much discussion. From this meet the following were decided.

Schaughnessy	24	44
Bellevue	130	219
Hi-Grade Mine (Bellevue)	35	84
Blairmore	130	268
Coleman	503	319
Michel, B.C.	158	464
Fernie, B.C.	145	116
Total	1,169	1,576

Over the whole of District 18, some 6,500 miners are affected. The agreement provides for the same wage scale as in 1953, and an increase of five cents per mined ton of coal to the welfare and retirement fund.

If later returns follow the early trend, it will be the first time in 20 years that the members of District 18, United Mine Workers of America Inc. have rejected a major agreement concluded by the leadership.

Results from about 35 mines in the Blairmore, Drumheller and Michel, B.C. areas showed at 11 a.m. 1,801 votes rejecting the agreement and 1,280 for it. The final result will be decided by a straight numerical majority of all the men concerned.

Coronation Year has special significance for charming CBC actress Ruth Springfield, who has played the role of queen so often during her radio career that she feels like just another member of the royal family. To date she has been cast as Mary Queen of Scots, Queen Wilhelmina, Carlotta of Mexico, Anne Boleyn, Lady Macbeth and Elizabeth I. Her latest queen-portrayal, one she has done before, is that of Queen Victoria in the Stage 53 productions of two of the Palace Plays of Laurence Housman. "Just call me Queenie," she says

C.C.F. CANDIDATE VISIT COLEMAN

Leslie Howard of Clarendon, the C.C.F. candidate in the coming federal election, for Macleod Constituency, was in Coleman last week conferring with workers and friends of that political party, laying the plans and discussing the coming campaign.

Mr. Howard wanted to visit and meet first hand with the situations as they exist in all parts of the riding. Ellis Oveatt, of Parkland, is his official agent and Joseph Peterson of Clarendon is the general campaign manager.

Mr. Howard reiterated the statements that the two main objects of a C.C.F. government returned at this time would be to insure prosperity in peace and safeguard against another world war.

Miners Reject Agreement

Southern Alberta and South-eastern British Columbia coal miners Friday voted against an arbitration agreement reached last week by the executive of District 18, United Mine Workers of America, and the Coal Operators' Association of Western Canada.

The results here show a trend that it is believed will be followed all over the province. The provincial government will supervise any strike votes called by the union in the locals where the proposed contract was turned down.

Throughout the whole district, only Fernie, B.C., and Coleman agreed to the contract. Lethbridge, Schaughnessy, Bellevue, Blairmore and Michel miners turned the contract down. Of 2,745 ballots cast—not including spoiled ballots—the above towns voted 1,576 against the contract and 1,169 for it.

CANADIAN EMBLEM—Artists Haydyn Martin, 20, (top), and Philip Isern, 19, put finishing touches to a large-scale Canadian emblem which will adorn the massive quadrilateral stand in Parliament Square, London, for the June 2 Coronation of Queen Elizabeth. With emblems of other Commonwealth countries, it is being prepared at London's Victoria and Albert Museum by artists from the Royal College of Art. One big painting, bearing the names of the colonies, is 36 feet in length and 24 feet in width at its widest point. The art student on the floor is unidentified.

NON-STOP REFUEL—Seen here, high above the clouds, is a refueling operation which has been perfected by the United States Air Force. Extending down from the top of the picture is the fuel transfer line through which the stuff that keeps jet engines going is falling to a B-47 strato-jet from a KC-97 strato-freighter tanker.

SNOUTFUL—Extending his trunk like a telescope, this elephant at the London Zoo lifts a tidbit from the hand of a wary youngster. The animal occupies an outdoor cage surrounded by a moat.

INTERFERENCE—Knocking the ball from Jim Hegan's hand, Chicago White Sox player Ferris Fain arrives home safely to score the winning run against Cleveland at Chicago. The Sox won 7-6 over the Indians.

UNFAILING FINGERS—Fingers that follow a memorized routine keep this sightless Cleveland, O., drill press operator working at a high production rate. The Cleveland Society for the Blind teaches the "feel" of tools to blind students through its occupational therapy program.

LANDING HER—"Her" refers to the girl, movie actress Debra Paget, being carried ashore by a husky Marine during amphibious landing operations at Little Creek, Va. The event was part of a joint project celebrating the world premiere of the movie "Titanic" and was sponsored by the Navy and a Hollywood movie studio.

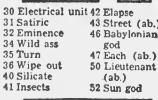

HORSE OF ANOTHER COLOR—Champion, horse belonging to TV-cowboy Gene Autry, takes on a TV-type line as he is made up by actress Joan Caulfield before going on the video airwaves. Autry, his costume carried by a sheet, also received cosmetic touchups from Miss Caulfield before appearing on the TV screen.

WEARING HIS FLYING GEAR, the Duke of Edinburgh relaxes in the cockpit of a Harvard training plane at White Waltham airbase, England, shortly after he passed his final test flight to become a full-fledged pilot with the Royal Air Force. Already a marshal of the R.A.F., the Duke had his wings pinned on him at Buckingham Palace by Air Chief Marshal Sir William Dicksen. He has been taking flying lessons for several months and has about 80 hours in the air to his credit.

RINGED—Peering into the bore of a three-ton bronze nut, toolmaker Paul Miller checks threading for size. Made at the Ford Co., of Dearborn, Mich., the opening in the nut is 15 inches in diameter. It caps a screw 13 feet long and was cut from a disc 28 inches thick.

CORONATION-BOUND—For her trip to the Coronation, Miss Canada, Marilyn Reddick, of Agincourt, Ont., has chosen a white gown of Nottingham lace over nylon with ruffled tiers skirt at back and a tiara of brilliants. The skirt took 20 yards of material.

HOSPITAL RIGHT AT HOME—The three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. Tresek, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., peer out of the door of their home from behind the health officers' warning signs. Evelyn, six, (left), first got over the mumps, then picked up the measles, now she has contracted the chicken pox. Of the three-year twins, Susan, (centre), is a mumps patient while Sylvia is being treated for the measles.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

MADAM PRESIDENT

By RUTH K. KENT

Alice Duncan's soft forehead creased. "But Mrs. Weatherby has been president of the Knitting and Literary Club ever since it was organized. I don't see how we can get her to resign after giving over a quarter of a century to this club." Martha Adam's broad mouth smiled. "Don't worry, Alice. We'll make it look like a favor to her. It's time she got out and let us young women run the club."

"Sure," Sally Cooper was knitting a sweater for her first baby. "Let's put some pep in these once-a-week sessions."

Harriet Mason was older than the other members. "Pep isn't what we want, Sally," she said gently. "But we need to moderate. The older women have dropped out and organized a sewing circle of their own. Mrs. Weatherby probably only stays on to be loyal."

Alice wondered about that. True enough, Mrs. Weatherby was the only aged member, and her loyalty was unflinching. But Alice felt a sudden ache at the thought of the meetings without Mrs. Weatherby's guidance. "She's done so many good things for the club," she reminded the girls.

"Alice," Sally cut in, "what this club needs is some speakers on modern things... charm and make-up..."

Harriet smiled. "We need modern speakers. But on the art, poetry, flower arrangements, and such things."

"But can't we have those and Mrs. Weatherby, too?" a new member asked.

Alice squirmed. She did think modern speakers would be interesting. But she wanted no part in anything that would hurt Mrs. Weatherby's feelings.

Martha jumped up. "We'll send a committee to sympathize with her because she lost her husband. We'll tell her that she needs a rest. She has a cousin in the city and could go there for a visit... or stay."

Harriet supplied, "And she hasn't had time, with her husband ill, to do so many of the things she enjoys."

"We'll give her a fountain pen," Sally supplied, "sort of a hint to write some more poetry. Everybody tries to write poetry."

"My mother liked her poetry," Alice defended.

"We'll give a luncheon next week and present her with the pen," Martha enthused. "And we'll give her a eulogy. Alice, she was a good friend of your mother's. Dig up some nice things to say about her."

Alice frowned. She didn't want to be in on this. Still, if Mrs. Weatherby let them persuade her to resign, maybe the club was a burden to her after all. "It won't be hard to find things to say," Alice said.

It wasn't either. Alice came to the luncheon with a handful of papers. "She's done so many good things," she told Martha. "She organized the school lunch fund, the letters to homesick kids. She gave the flowers that decorated the church for years, and there has never been a funeral in this town without some of her flowers."

Alice shrugged. If they thought she was going to let Mrs. Weatherby leave without a few kind words... well, they'd be surprised. They were going to be surprised anyway. Alice had made up her mind to defy them all and ask Mrs. Weatherby to stay. They'd hate her, and she was almost afraid to do it. But she had to. She couldn't help it.

Alice toyed with her salad. She needed this club as an outlet from the hard work at home. The girls would hate her. But she needed to live with herself more. She was tasting her ice cream when Martha announced, "Mrs. Duncan has a few words to say."

Alice rose and tucked at her new dress. She should have bought a 38 after all. "Ladies..." Mrs. Weatherby stood up. "Just a minute, Alice. I'd like to say something." She looked around and smiled and Alice felt a tug at her heart. "Ladies," Mrs. Weatherby's voice was always so positive. "I'm still president here, that's why I interrupted Alice so rudely. I want to make a confession. In a moment of weakness the other day I told a few of the members that I wanted to resign from this club. But after thinking it over I realize how selfish that is."

Martha nudged Alice and whispered, "She can't do that!"

"I've been thinking," Mrs. Weatherby continued, "that this club is speaking to its feet. We need modern speakers, so I took the liberty of bringing an old friend of mine, Dorothy Wilson, editor of Modern Verse magazine. Dorothy will give us some pointers on modern poetry. In fact she'll probably tell you that she has published a lot of my humble verses."

Martha was elbowing Alice. "What'll we do?"

"Sh..." Alice smiled.

"You girls are going to have to listen to modern speakers from now on," Mrs. Weatherby promised. "I simply won't let this club mold. Now Alice, what were you going to say?"

Alice stood up, her eyes damp with tears. "I only wanted to ask if the next meeting can be held at my house," she said.

HERE'S WHY . . .

It is economical — in installation — uses only one length of pipe inside casing . . . in operation — because it uses smaller motor, needs less power to operate . . . in maintenance — no rods or shafts to replace; no valves to repair; no lubrication trouble because both pump and motor are water cooled and water lubricated!

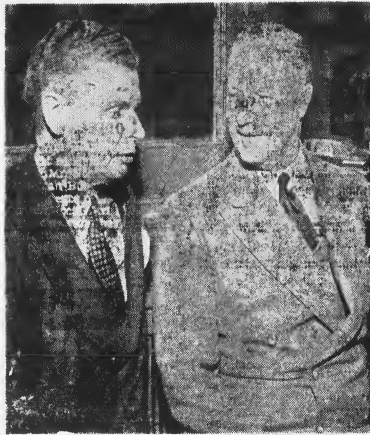

Has many advantages — never needs priming — 100% quiet; owner can install or remove with simple shop tools; service pipes may be cut in below frost line; tank and electric controls may be set over well or away from it.

Performance proved in thousands of installations.

Ball News

Bill Plante
and
Bob Ryplen

Coleman Cubs outpitched opposing clubs but couldn't outlast them on their first road trip of the year. Sandulak hurled brilliant four hit ball in the opener, but went wild on occasions walking six Fernie batsmen. In the second contest Fass Nakima held Michel down, but again lack of hitting power proved the turning point in the game.

Michel-Natal scored three runs in the opener only to have the Coleman crew come back to take a slim one run lead. The Red Sox retaliated to tally three more in the fifth to take the contest. Walt Tymchyna and Stan Saloff proved to be the Cubs only hitting punch.

Highlights

The Coleman club this year is comprised of some of the youngest players in senior baseball. Walt Tymchyna, Stan Saloff and Bob Ryplen make up the majority of the infield, with two veterans Dave Pow, Alex Kovack continue with another youth Geo. Jenkins.

Should southpaw Sandulak control his wildness he could be the turning point from a losing to a winning club. The Cubs pulled off one of the biggest upsets in Ringland Cup history in not winning a game all season then knocking off Blairmore and Pincher Creek to take top honors in Pass baseball. Coleman baseball fans should be pleased with this year's entry and should attend the games.

TENNIS REVIEW

Tennis enthusiasts of Coleman are once again active on the local courts. This year, however, they are playing on three of the finest hard-surfaced courts to be found anywhere between Trail and Calgary.

During the last two seasons the local tennis club has had to assume a passive role. Early in the summer of 1951 play was limited, on the then existing two shale courts, by highway construction. During 1952 there was no tennis in Coleman as the courts had been completely destroyed. Late last Fall government crews laid down the base and surface for three courts, just south of the curling rink. Some fencing was done by club members, however, the onset of cold weather brought operations to a halt. Early this Spring work again commenced upon the courts, with the completion of the fencing and the preparation on the playing surfaces. With the arrival of new nets the court area is finished.

The club is now faced with a new problem—what about our clubhouse? After due consideration the club executive has decided that rather than try and restore the old clubhouse, which was severely damaged in moving they will build a new clubhouse, salvaging material from the old clubhouse. The new clubhouse, when finished, will be a varnished log structure located on a terraced area at the northwest corner of the courts. It is hoped that this building will be completed this year. Temporary repairs may be made on the old building to make it usable until the new clubhouse is ready.

The club anxious to increase its membership and invites former members to return to the club and also encourage new members. This year arrangements have been made to have the well known local player Charles "Chick" Roughhead to act as coach for new members. Instruction classes will be held for junior members and thus the juniors are encouraged to join the club. As the season progresses several tournaments will be held in an effort to get the club members better acquainted with each other. A mixed tournament is being planned for the near future as a starter for the summer's activities.

We of the club hope to see the development of new tennis stars equal to those local players who carried fame for the Coleman Tennis Club in past years.—P.B.R.A.

By means of radio, million of listeners in Canada will be following the Coronation parade along its route, as well as the service in Westminster Abbey.

Here's how these broadcasts will be relayed to listeners here: three transmissions of the same program, but on different frequencies, will be shortwaved by the BBC from London as the historic event takes place. One of these will be picked up by the CBC shortwave receiver near Ottawa, and the other two from New York. They will then be relayed to Toronto, from where the broadcast will be fed to the CBC networks. Toronto will have a choice of using the best of the three transmissions, and can switch from one to the other wave length, thereby assuring best possible reception for listeners in Canada.

In addition, a French-language broadcast of the event will be beamed directly to Montreal for distribution to the CBC's French network. The upper insets show (left to right) the CBC's French network commentators, Judith Jasmin, Rene Levesque, and Gerard Arthur.

CBC personnel who will help arrange and broadcast the Coronation for English-speaking listeners will be (bottom left and right) A. E. Powley, supervisor of special events, and Capt. W. E. S. Briggs, who will do a commentary from inside Westminster Abbey.

Jury Returns Open Verdict--Car Accident

An open verdict was handed down by a coroner's jury on Friday evening, investigating the death of David Watson Miller, Tent Mountain strip mine employee.

Mr. Miller, a passenger in the left rear seat of an automobile driven by Fred Malakoff of Coleman, was fatally injured May 19 when the car collided with a truck, about three miles east of Burnham on Highway No. 3. Six others involved in the crash escaped with relatively minor injuries.

Joseph Maslanica, driving the truck to Coleman from Calgary, testified he saw the car approaching, with lights dimmed. The car swung to the right of the highway, he said, and then swung back into the truck.

Mr. Malakoff said he didn't know what caused the accident. He believed he had been on his own side of the highway.

He said he had "a couple of beers" that afternoon, two in the Crow's Nest Hotel in the "early evening," he said, and then swung back into the truck.

what happened to cause the accident.

Bert Stan Kingston of Fort Macleod, who was driving behind the car, said it was travelling about 50 miles per hour. He noticed nothing wrong with the car prior to the accident.

Coroner was Dr. E. J. Liesemer of Coleman. J. Harper Prowse Q. C., of Lethbridge, represented the attorney-general's dept.

Council Accepts Power Contract

A delegation waited on the town council Tuesday night regarding the spring run off problem on third street and was assured by the council that the matter was being attended to. The works and property committee were authorized to do a permanent job on this problem.

A second delegation requested that a street light be installed at the far end of West Coleman, complaining of the darkness at that point and a growler in the area. It was moved that this light be installed.

Coronation Day took up considerable time with the council considering calling a civic holiday. However, it was decided that the merchants be asked to close their place of business by gentleman's agreement.

It was decided to purchase a stockpile of 5000 yards of gravel from the Coleman Collieries for use in town projects.

Bylaw 262 regarding the mill rate for the business section had previously received its first two readings and the endorsement of the Minister. Third and final reading was given at this meeting.

Instructions were given that a 20 foot sign for the Coronation be ordered from a Lethbridge firm.

Civil defence matters brought about the decision that the Mayor and a member of the C.D. visit the new officials of the coal company regarding the participation of everyone in this effort.

Due to the fact that council chambers are to be placed at the disposal of civil defence a lock will be installed on the door leading to the secretary's office and an extension phone run to the police office.

Considerable discussion was held regarding the park but no definite action was taken. In regards cemetery work this year, the chairman of that department was told to ascertain the length of life of the Catholic cemetery and let that determine his policy as same extension could be made to the other cemetery.

Permanent gratings for culverts were ordered as children have been removing present gratings making the open culverts dangerous.

Police matters were discussed regarding noise late at night and fines. Considerable discussion was heard about fines of $1 plus $4.50 costs, advisability of bringing in a new bylaw, flouting the authority of police and insults that they take along with the desire that the magistrate

Weddings

WED IN COLEMAN

Of interest to friends in Coleman is the early May wedding in Coleman when Rina Rinaldi, RN, became the bride of Mr. Douglas Frederick Folkins of Medicine Hat. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rinaldi of Coleman and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Folkins of Medicine Hat and the grandson of Mr. F. W. Bennett, old time resident of Lethbridge.

The wedding was held in St. Alban's Anglican church in Coleman with Rev. Harry Moss officiating.

The bride was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Jean Folkins and Mr. Bruno Rinaldi, brother of the bride was best man.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, Rev. Moss proposed the toast to the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Folkins will make their home at 447 Cambridge Street in Medicine Hat.

Play Safe--Keep Off Train Tracks

Do you know that Railway Tracks are the world's most dangerous playground? Here are some of the more important things to remember at all times:

1. Trespassing on railroad property is exactly like going into another person's house or yard without permission.
2. Do not play on or near railroad property.
3. Do not walk on railroad tracks
4. Do not walk on -- play on -- run over -- fish from -- or dive from -- railroad trestles and bridges.
5. Do not "hop" rides on cars.
6. Don't crawl under, between, in or around cars of a standing train.
7. Do not play on coal piles, piles of ties or other material on railroad property.
8. Do not place any object on the rails.
9. Do not tamper with railroad property such as signals or switches, brake wheels or car couplings.
10. Do not damage insulators or signal lights along the right of way.
11. Do not throw stones, shoot slingshots or air rifles at moving trains or the train crews or passengers.
12. Cross railroad tracks only at authorized street crossings and be sure the tracks are clear.
13. Do not crawl under or pass around the end of lowered crossing gates.

This is quite a list--but not hard to remember.

Family Allowance In Detail

When you receive family allowances, and how do you apply? How much can you expect to receive? How does this affect your income tax? The Department of National Health and Welfare has answered a number of questions concerning family allowances in the following up-to-date summary of regulations.

Registration for Family Allowances

(a) To register a child for Family Allowances it is necessary to complete a Family Allowance Registration Form and send it to the Regional Director of Family Allowances.

(b) The registering of a child's birth with the Provincial authorities does not constitute registration for Family Allowances.

(c) Registration Forms may be obtained in any Post Office. White forms are for use in registering a family for the first time. Blue supplementary forms should be used in registering additional children in a family.

Payments of Family Allowances

(a) In the month following date of birth provided the completed Family Allowance Registration Form was received in the office of the Regional Director within 30 days after the birth of the child; or

(b) In the first month after the completed Family Allowances registration Form was received in the office of the Regional Director.

Eligibility

Under the Family Allowance Act payments are made to parents who maintain or have custody of a child. To be eligible for payments a child must be resident in Canada and in regular attendance at school as required by the laws of the Province in which the child resides.

Rates of Payment

Family Allowances are paid as follows:

Up to 6th birthday $5.00 per month.
8th birthday to 10th birthday $6.00 per month.
10th birthday to 13th birthday $7.00 per month.
13th birthday to 16th birthday $8.00 per month.

There are no deductions on account of the size of the family.

Changes in Rates

The rates change automatically on the first month following the month of the child's 6th, 8th, 10th, 13th birthday and payments cease with the last day of the month in which the child's 16th birthday falls.

Discontinuance

When allowances are received improperly they are subject to recovery from the person receiving them. Any circumstances creating ineligibility of child or payee should be reported at once by the payee to the Regional Director of Family Allowances concerned.

It is the duty of the parent to notify the Regional Director: When a child dies.

When a child fails to go to school regularly.

When a child leaves school for any reason.

When a child begins to work for pay.

When a child moves to the care of another person.

When a child leaves Canada.

When a child is in an institution, such as a Children's Home, Mental Hospital, T.B. Sanatorium, etc.

When a child is in a Training School or Detention Home.

When a girl, under the age of 16, marries.

When the parents cease to maintain a child.

A prompt report will help avoid overpayments. Overpayments are debts to the Crown and must be recovered.

Change of Address

The Regional Director of Family Allowances should be advised in writing immediately of any change of address to avoid delay in receipt of cheques. Both the old and new addresses together with the Family Allowance Serial Number should be quoted over the signature of the payee. When either parent remarries or when there is any change in the name of the person to whom allowances are being paid, full details should be forwarded to the Regional Director in Canada.

Residence in Canada

(a) Immigrant children born outside of Canada become eligible for Family Allowances after one year's residence in Canada.

(b) Children born in Canada to immigrant parents are eligible immediately after birth. (See para. 2—Payments of Family Allowances.)

(c) Children born abroad of Canadian parents should be registered for Family Allowances immediately on return to Canada.

(d) In fact, in all the above cases registration should be made to protect the payee's rights.

Helpful Hints

An excellent way to curl feathers is to heat them before a fire, then stroke them with the back of a knife.

If the spring of the window shade is weak and the shade will not roll properly, rewind it without taking off. Roll the shade up as far as possible and pass the lower end over the top of the roller from the front several times, or until sufficiently tight.

If the oven doors have steel on them it can be cleaned by rubbing the steel briskly, while still warm, with a soft cloth dipped in vinegar.

If there are ink stains on a rug saturate the spot with vinegar, then sprinkle salt over it. Take a large spoon and dip up all possible. Repeat several times and then rinse in cold water.

Sometimes a dull file can be sharpened by soaking it for about 20 minutes in a dilute solution of sulphuric acid.

MUMMY'S TITLE DARLING

Most people enjoy hearing a very smart child make his first attempt at talking but he should not be encouraged to use baby talk. By the age of four he should be able to pronounce ordinary words and sentences. Any lingering babytalk should be gently but firmly eliminated. It helps the child if older members of his family, when speaking to him, pronounce their words clearly and correctly. It is not a good idea to laugh at him or call the attention of others to his linguistic errors—he may develop a feeling of shyness in speaking to adults or he may use the mistakes as a means of attracting attention.

EASY FISHING

MAILLARDVILLE, B.C. — Henry Holmes, a parks board attendant, went to investigate reports of worried fishermen that two feet of water in the basement of the Macklin Park Community Centre was a menace to children. He blasted away a corner of the abandoned building to release the water. Out with the flood came a bunch of speckled trout.

Funny and Otherwise

"Well, Willie, what did you learn at school today?"

"Gee, pa, I learned to say yes sir, no sir, yes ma'am and no ma'am."

"You did?"

"Yeah."

Boy friend—hate to tell you this, Junior, but you're losing your sister. At the party last night she promised to be my wife.

Junior—Huh, that's what the party was for.

Diner (suspiciously): "Why do you call this 'Enthusiastic' stew?"

Waiter: "Because the chef put everything he had into it."

"These new fashions are absolutely freakish," said Mr. Robinson. "Every time I look at that new hat of yours it makes me laugh."

"That's splendid, darling," replied his wife. "I'll hang it up where you can see it when the bill arrives."

The manager heard that a $40-a-week clerk had a car, and asked him how he could afford it, with four children.

"Oh, that's easy," said the clerk.

"There are 500 of us employed at this factory. I raffle my wages every week at a quarter a go."

"My boy friend kept me standing in the rain for an hour before he proposed."

"What did you say?"

"This is so sudden."

A man who had been waiting patiently in the post office could not attract the attention of either of the girls behind the counter.

"The evening cloak," explained one of the girls to her companion, "was in gorgeous lane brocade, with fox fur and wide pagoda sleeves."

At this point the long-suffering customer broke in with, "I wonder if you could provide me with a neat, red stamp with a dinky perforated hem, the tout ensemble delicately treated on the reverse with muclage. Something at about five cents."

Willie arrived home with two black eyes.

"Fighting again?" said his mother. "Didn't I tell you that when you are angry you should count a hundred before you do anything?"

"Yes, I know," returned Willie, "but the other boy's mother told him only to count fifty."

A man took home a parrot as a present for his wife. "Oh, how lovely!" she said. "But why has it got a string tied to each leg?"

"Pull one and see," said her husband.

"Good afternoon, madam!" the parrot said as she pulled the string attached to its left leg. "Pleased to meet you," it responded when she pulled the string on its right.

"I wonder what would happen if I pulled both strings together?" she asked curiously.

"I should fall off my perch, you fool!" replied the parrot.

Continuing the trend of the last few months of 1952, births registered in Canada in January this year increased 11 per cent as compared with the corresponding month last year. There were increased registrations in all provinces except Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick.

Deaths in January were almost four per cent higher than a year ago, with increases in Newfoundland, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, and declines in the other provinces. On the whole there was no abnormal increase in mortality during the winter months.

Marriages increased 13 per cent, in number in January as compared with the same month last year. Increases were registered for all provinces except New Brunswick, Manitoba and British Columbia.

Births in Canada in January numbered 32,867 as compared with 29,612 a year ago; deaths, 11,500 compared with 11,083; and marriages, 5,722 compared with 5,004.

Ringworm Disease To Be Investigated By Scientists

OTTAWA.—A disease common in rural areas, suppurative ringworm contracted from cattle, is to be investigated by scientists at the University of Manitoba, Winnipeg, with the financial support of a federal health grant. Hon. Paul Martin, minister of National Health and Welfare, announced here.

The study will be carried out by Dr. J. C. Wilt, chairman of the department of bacteriology, and Dr. A. R. Birt, lecturer in dermatology, assisted by Miss E. Hirst, all from the staff of the University of Manitoba's medical college.

They hope to discover new facts about the origin of this disease and thus to improve treatment procedures and perhaps to devise means of controlling its spread, the federal health minister stated.

The research includes collection of test material from patients for microscopic and cultural studies to determine the fungi causing the disease and studies of barn dust and soil from the patient's farm to see if the reservoir of infection can be discerned and control measures instituted. Studies will be undertaken to ascertain whether or not treatment with the new antibiotics is effective.

The study, which will last for from one to two years, will be carried out at the Winnipeg General Hospital, the Children's Hospital and with the co-operation of general practitioners in rural Manitoba. The federal grant to cover cost of the research in the current year is $1,900.00.

R.C.M.P. Musical Ride Has Lengthy History

(By Harold Morrison, CP Staff Writer)

OTTAWA.—The famed R.C.M.P. musical ride, to be performed at the Royal Tournament in London after the Coronation of the Queen, has a history almost as old as Canada. It was in the days of gun-totin' outlaws, cattle rustlers and wild, untrusting Indians that the unique precision drill of men and horses was born. It was started by the Northwest Mounted Police, a tough, pioneering police force that helped to bring law and order to the unruly West.

Inspector William Dick of Lethbridge, Alta., who helped revive the ride after the Second World War, recalls an old diary which tells part of the story.

"There's an item in this diary which tells of an order issued in December, 1874, to a Sergeant-Major Belcher, instructing him to prepare two musical rides, one with lances and the other with swords," says Inspector Dick.

That order, seven years after Confederation, was issued at a remote Prairie settlement "Pile of Bones Creek" now the thriving city of Regina.

Since then the fame of the "musical ride" has spread far and wide. Now the ride will be presented for the first time overseas before a reigning monarch. The Royal Tournament will be held June 10-19.

King George and Queen Elizabeth saw it in Regina during the 1939 royal tour. A miniature ride was held for Queen Elizabeth when she visited Canada in 1951 with the Duke of Edinburgh.

PAPERS ARE SAYING:

Something of a record in years of residence was hung up here recently by Mrs. Bob Caig. It marked just 50 years of living at Indian Head and in the same house. It was on May 1st that Mrs. Caig first occupied the Caig dwelling on Buxton street, and she has resided there ever since. If any local resident can beat that, The News would like to hear of it. — Indian Head News, Indian Head, Sask.

A couple of oldtimers living south of town pulled off quite a laugh Saturday following the rain of two inches or more that made roads off the gravel impassable for cars.

An oldtimer thus affected telephoned a friend two miles away on the double of highway 31, that he would go to town with him. When he arrived on horseback his friend met him with a stepladder.

This brought strong resentment and with the words that he was not too old yet to dismount on his own.

However, both made the trip to town in the light truck and were seen making the rounds in a friendly and happy mood. — The Maclean Times, Maclean, Sask.

A problem for the local garages has arisen out of a motion passed at Tuesday night's council meeting. The motion is prohibiting the parking of unlicensed vehicles on Naim's streets. Most of the head-scratching occurs when the garage-men wonder where they can put their stacks of used cars and trucks and machinery for few have sufficient spare space for them. But nevertheless the council says they have to go. — The Naim Progress, Naim, Sask.

Don't Neglect Slipping FALSE TEETH

As false teeth drop, slip or wobble when you talk, eat, laugh or sneeze don't be annoyed and embarrassed by such incidents. FASTEETH, an alkaline (non-acid) powder to sprinkle on your plates, keeps false teeth more firmly set. Gives confident feeling of security and comfort. No empty, loose, nasty taste or feeling. Get FASTEETH today at any drug store.

Police estimate that property damage during the period cost $754,000, and by June, if it follows the pattern set last year it is likely to be well over a million dollars.

Greatest single causes of accidents are careless driving and failure to have right of way.

The traffic board's figures show that the worst hours of the week for driving come on Monday, Thursday and Saturday, with the hours from five to eight on Saturday afternoon being the worst time of the week for traffic accidents.

Which Eye Is Your Sighting Eye?

When we are looking at something we automatically line it up with either one of our eyes. This eye does the work of sighting or aiming our vision. For example, when a baseball is thrown at us one of our eyes does the job of lining it up. Both eyes are in use at this time but only the one that nature intended to do that particular job is "sighting" the ball. It is very important that a ball player find out for sure which of his eyes is the one he "sights" or lines up with because if he is a right handed hitter and his sighting eye is his right one, he will have to make sure he turns his face squarely toward the pitcher during his batting stance so that his sighting eye can come into play. If he doesn't turn his head in this way, he would probably not get as good a view of the ball as he should and his hitting, of course, would suffer.

Here is a test that you can use to find out which of your eyes does the sighting for you. Reach out with your arm and point with your index finger toward an object 15 to 20 feet away, keeping both eyes open as you get your index finger pointing directly at this object. Then, when you have lined it up, close one eye and take a look. Then close the other eye and take a look. You will find that when you close one of your eyes your finger remains pointed at the target but when you close the other eye you will find that you are far from lining up the target, sometimes being as much as 5 or 6 inches off the mark. Remember, make this test right away and find out which of your eyes is your "sighting" eye and then make sure you give it a perfect view of the ball when you are up at the plate. This is one sure way to improve your hitting.

Improve Your Starting Technique

There is little doubt, now that conclusive tests have proved it in, that the most important factor in starting technique is to gain the maximum propulsion from the blocks by exerting maximum, explosive pressure with both feet against the blocks, rather than concentrating on getting away from the blocks as quickly as possible without emphasizing any real drive. Although the initial start is delayed slightly the dividends in the force of extra momentum more than make up for the time lag at the gun.

After Activity Meal

It is wise to wait until you are fairly well recovered (an hour at least after activity has stopped) before you eat heavily. Otherwise sufficient blood will not have returned to your stomach to do a good digesting job. Also remember that digestion takes blood that must be brought to other parts of the body and this causes the heart to work even harder than it already is doing. This is why your heart always beats faster after a heavy meal. Take a tip, and give your body a chance to recover before you down that heavy meal.

TWO DECADES IN MENTAL HEALTH PROGRESS

Medical science has made great advances in mental health treatment during the past two decades so that an average of seven cases out of 10 are now with proper treatment, likely to recover. The use of psychotherapy in some forms of mental illness often helps the patient to understand his own behavior and this assists him to modify it. The right treatment, given in the early stages of the disease, often results in a cure; even cases that are longer established are helped with modern methods. Time is an important factor in achieving a cure; medical care should be sought immediately if any symptoms are apparent.

Kitchen Meditations

By JANE DALE

THE FIRST LOOSE TOUTH

He bounced into my kitchen. His eyes so round and bright. "Guess what? Guess what!" he cried to me. But I just couldn't guess right. He was all excited. And he had to tell right away. It had never happened to him before. He wanted to tell it to me. "See," he then pointed. And there without a doubt Was a little hole where a tooth had been. And his pink tongue peeping out! "I'll pop right in again. Mummy told me she knows." He brimmed over with importance. And thus, a small boy grows.

On The Side : E. V. Durling

Prolific Papa

Know anybody named Perion? If so, it is possible he or she is a descendant of Mickey Fenlon of Wexford, Ireland. Mickey was the father of 62 children. He was married three times. By his first wife he had 25 children; by his second 18; by his third 19. This highly prolific father died in 1900 at 90. It is difficult to get a man of Irish birth or descent into matrimonial harness but, when he does marry, he really takes it very seriously.

Delivering To Robbers

Was much interested in a statement to the police made by a man who successfully robbed 30 names before he was caught. He told the police he passed up only one place he intended to rob. "Why?" he was asked. He said: "There was a dog in the kitchen." I don't say owning a dog is complete insurance against burglary, but it certainly helps.

Man Friday

Ever been the best man at a church wedding? How did you handle the situation? Make sure? Overlook any important details? Too many fellows are not completely familiar with what is expected of the best man. First, he helps the bridegroom get ready for the ceremony. At the same time he checks to see if the groom is all packed for the honeymoon. Then he arranges for the honeymoon transportation, hotel reservations and keeps the tickets to hand to the groom on departure. The best man gets the groom to the church on time. He takes charge of the ring, the marriage documents, the fees for the clergyman, organist, choir, etc. At the reception he is expected to respond to the toast given by the bridegroom. Many a best man is even more nervous than the bridegroom, but traditionally brides are never nervous.

Raising the Standard

In France, the hitchhikers have unionized. Only persons between 18 and 30 are eligible. Must prove they have no criminal record and at all times carry means of identification. The hitchhikers' union has made arrangements to free autists of accident liability of a hitchhiker member up to $8,500. The members of the hitchhikers' union do not use the "thumbs-up" method of signalling a ride. They carry the official flag of the union. This they wave at the approaching automobile.

Only Billionaires Need Apply

Who is the richest man in the world? Since the Nizam of Hyderabad was separated from much of his money by the Indian government, there seems some doubt about the rightful owner of that title. If King Abdul of Saudi Arabia is not the richest man in the world now, he certainly is on his way to be. He has an income of $3 million a week from oil. His majesty has a private transport plane, a large garage full of Cadillacs and a 40-room harem. He has had 200 wives, but only four at a time. He has 64 sons, but nobody knows how many daughters. They don't count the daughters in Saudi Arabia.

Dubious Economy

Some changes made by efficiency men which appear to save money are often, in the long run, of doubtful value. As, for example, using a public address system for hotel lobby paging instead of page boys. The constant belabouring of names over the public address gadget makes the lobby seem like a railroad or bus station. Take the idea of having waitresses ask, "Do you take cream in your coffee?" If you do, you get a little bit of cream in an undersized container. In some places, if you say you take cream, they have the effrontery to pour some cream in your coffee, entirely ignoring your tastes as to how much you like. Then consider that idea of slicing ham sandwiches so thin. That's no good in the long run. In fact, all the methods aforementioned have a tendency to alienate the affections of the customers.

ANTIQUE BEAUTIES—Fifteen hundred little ladies of another era make up the rare-doll collection of Mrs. Ruth Schron of Cleveland, Ohio. Unlike dolls of today, these carefully made toys from the past are dressed and coiffured in a way that would make modern misses jealous of their gowns, curls and salons.

Controlling Chick Vices

Along about the fourth week after hatching, some strains of chicks stop being agreeable little characters and develop a fancy for each other's tails. Sometimes the inclination leads to considerable trouble and loss.

At the Experimental Station at Harrow, Ontario, it has been found that quick action at the start means much in controlling chick vices. First of all, the raw parts should be given a dressing of pine tar or some commercial anti-pick preparation. The possibilities of overheating, overcrowding, too much light and too little ventilation should also be looked into. Feeding and drinking space would be provided in proper proportions as the chicks grow.

Chicks have an inquisitive nature and any contact made by one bit of colour against another calls for investigation apparently to see if the object is good to eat. Such a condition occurs at the time when the first feathers are not quite fully formed and the new quill shows up against the pink skin. Starting with a speck of blood, the injury becomes progressively worse with the attention it attracts. In cases where picking appears to be getting out of hand it can often be checked by tacking red tissue paper over the windows. The reddish glow within the building neutralizes other red colours and the contrast made by blood or wounds against feathers is greatly reduced. Newspapers over the windows and red electric bulbs provide the same effect. After a few days of this treatment ordinary light may be gradually admitted.

An important point in the control of picking among chicks is a readiness to apply remedies promptly. It is also advisable, even after an outbreak has been stopped, to look in on the flock a little more frequently in order to prevent further outbreaks from getting started.

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

COVENANTNESS CAN ONLY LEAD TO PAIN

What is the definition of the word "Covenantness"? Probably, we could define it as an inordinate desire to possess those things which rightfully belong to others.

Covenantness has played a large part in the social and economic life of the world. This has been on a vast scale and has contributed far more to the injury of the human race than many of us realize.

But first let us look at the Ten Commandments and examine them carefully. It is apparent that they are carefully designed to establish sound ideas as a basis of community life. Based on a firm foundation of absolute faith in one spiritual God, they also establish mutually safe, entirely fair restraints on the population living in a community.

But it is important to note two things. One is the way that Israel fell into decay and ruin through the failure to keep those commandments. The second is the way that weaknesses, evils and failures in our modern and complex societies are largely due to the failure to establish and practice these commandments.

The measure of our social disruption is largely the extent to which we have failed to recognize the principles which Moses saw were at the foundation of the common welfare.

The parable of the successful farmer is one which might offer a good example. He was typical of so many men who are materially successful and yet are so apt to be forgetful of their obligations to God and their fellowmen.

How much better our lives would be if we tried to be "rich toward God" and if we could only discover the wealth of living that God intends for all of us.

Garden Notes

For Amateur Gardeners

SPREAD THEM OUT

It will be a mistake to plant all the seed at the same time. In both vegetables and flowers one should aim at a succession of crops or bloom. With quick maturing things like beans, radish, spinach, lettuce, carrots and so on the best plan, is to make successive sowings two weeks apart right up to early July. This will bring on a continuous supply of vegetables in the very prime of condition. With flowers, a certain amount of succession is possible, especially with those which normally are in bloom within six to ten weeks after planting. Many people make it a practice to save a little of the seed in each packet, then plant this a few weeks later. In this way we also have some protection against a very late frost, or flood or other damage which may destroy the first sowing.

WATCH FOR BUGS

Even with bugs and insects around, and there are few places in Canada where these enemies are not lurking, it is possible to grow the finest of flowers and vegetables, if one is reasonably on guard. For every pest, fortunately, there is a control or cure. The main thing is to get this control operating at the very first sign of attack. Careful gardeners will examine any damage like wilted or partially destroyed or eaten leaves, with regard with suspicion any sudden check. Careful gardeners will also supply themselves with some sort of a duster or sprayer and the proper materials to go with them. There is all sorts of equipment available, and for the small garden it is not necessary to spend more than a dollar or two. There are also specific dusts and sprays ready mixed for use.

As a general rule, insects that eat the foliage are attacked with a poison such as DDT, arsenate of lead, etc., while those that suck out the juices like aphids and other plant lice are controlled with preparations incorporating nicotine or tobacco solutions, lime, sulphur or special soap. Finely ground sulphur dust is an excellent preventive for diseases like rust. Above all it should be remembered that a healthy, well-cultivated, well-fertilized garden is the first and main defense. If plants are left unthinned and crowded with weeds, if the soil is poor and growth stunted and weak we have an ideal spot for pests to flourish.

KEEP A RECORD

It's an excellent idea to keep a note-book and list certain jobs we are going to do for sure next year. We should also jot down such items as color and season of bloom, height, resistance to disease and drought, and, of course, the name of any flower or shrub we see growing in a neighbour's garden that we hope to have in our own. With certain lines of nursery stock, most shrubs, trees, vines, etc., one can buy and plant in the fall just as well as next spring. By doing this we get these established earlier and save time for other tasks next year.

Ten Word INTELLIGRAM

Check the correct word.

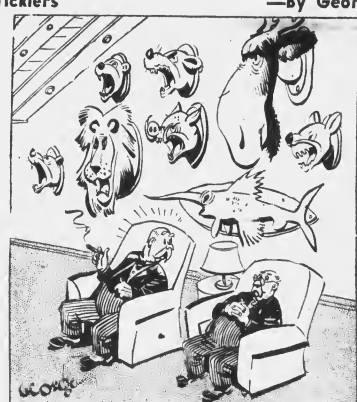

- (Nine) (Two) cities have been U.S. capitals.
